Sweet Alice of olden Vincennes,
Was courted by all the young men,
But she put them aside
With a high air of pride,
Saying: "Wait till you hear me say when I see"

Mrs. Sarah Taylor is seriously sick at her home in Washington.

Colonel B. A. Wallingford is a patient at Wilson Hospital receiving treatment for his eyes.

Players Fined

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 24th.—A total of $70 in fines were assessed today against the members of the Lexington team by Umpire McFarland. Every man on the team who took part in the game was fined except Wick. Unruly conduct was the cause of the assessment of the fines.

LET UNCLE SAM GIVE YOU THE FACTS

Government reports show the steady output of coal during the last few years has made the dealers push for wider markets. We are going to get more trade—your trade—by giving you a greater value for your money. You will never get out of debt unless you buy wisely.

The new Russell hospital is to be modern in all respects and is to be an addition to the Y. M. C. A. Building which has recently been made one of the finest association buildings the C. & O. has along its entire system.

Kentucky Teachers in Session

The meeting at Louisville this week of the Kentucky Educational Association is by far the largest ever held in the state.

The membership of the association now exceeds 2,500 teachers, as against $50 at the Owensboro meeting a year ago. Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, President of the Association made her annual address. Mrs. Stewart referred with evident pride to legislation favorable to public schools, which she declared have been accomplished largely by the efforts of the association.

To Continue Business

We have been successful in securing a renewal of our lease on our meat store in the Capron building and contrary to our former announcements to the public will be in the meat business at the same old stand for the next five years. We certainly appreciate the business of our old patrons and take this method of thanking them for their past patronage and asking them for a continuance of their business in the future. Our business will be continued along the same lines that have made our house famous and the same high class goods will be served you in the future as have been served you in the past.

MAYSVILLE WON AGAIN

Home Team "Played" With Mt. Sterling Bunch in Lifeless Game of 6 to 2

Maysville added another game to her total yesterday afternoon by defeating Mt. Sterling in an uninteresting contest by the score of 6 to 2.

There were several clever features, but the way the visitors dropped the ball was amazing.

Snyder's long hit to center was a speeder and he came flying home only to die at the plate.

They "Threw Him Out" at Home.

plate by being a second too slow for the ball. The score:
Mt. Sterling.....0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—2
Maysville.....0 3 3 0 0 0 0 0—6
Batteries—Mt. Sterling, Lake and Earl Harris; Maysville, Wellman and Kunkle. Three base hits—Wellman, Snyder. Sacrifice hits—Grover. Stolen bases—Walsh. Struck out—By Lake 2, by Wellman 10. Left on bases—Mt. Sterling 1, Maysville 4. First base on errors—Mt. Sterling 1, Maysville 7. Hit by pitcher—By Lake, Camingore. Time—1:30. Umpire—Copeland.

NOTES.

Maysville is going to win the 1912 pennant.

No more games on the Maysville grounds until Thursday, July Fourth, when the Frankfort team comes for a double header.

Yesterday there were four Maysville pitchers at the ball game which goes to show that the national sport is popular with the church.

Sheriff Dan Scott, who was shot by a policeman in Lexington ten days ago, is considered out of danger.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN.

Roosevelt says that the Socialists are all going to vote for him in Ohio. The anarchists ought to be for him to a man.—Charles-ton News and Courier.

Back to the stable with the dark horses!—Louisville Times.

Chicago or Baltimore? And what color is the Baltimore donkey, anyhow?

Col. Roosevelt is just now hunting a running mate on his ticket. Carrie Nation, if she was a living, would make an ideal candidate for Vice President on the Roosevelt ticket. Wouldn't Teddy and Carrie smash things?

As for the President himself, history will speak in no uncertain terms of the service he rendered his country in standing firm against the grasping ambition of a man who for the first time in our history has thrown over the republic of Washington and Lincoln the shadow of a dictatorship.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Commenting on the renomination of President Taft at Chicago the New York Herald says:

"William H. Taft, the most distinguished A Record Glowing With member of his party, Common Sense. one of the safest and sanest Presidents we have ever had, a Judge with a record second to none, a President with a record glowing with common sense and golden achievements, was renominated at Chicago.

"His victory has been dearly bought and yet one of the most notable and decisive in political annals. Mr. Taft's greatness in the latter days of this contest, embittered, venomous and enslaved by his opponent, has stood out with Himalayan grandeur.

"This man is never so great as when he is facing trials and perplexities. He has made some mistakes, but he has done a great many lofty and magnificent things for the people. Through his administration he has held the great business fabric steady.

"He deserves well at the hands of his country.

"Above all things he deserves fair play."

The Republican party reaffirms its intention to uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, both State and Federal, and it will ever insist that their powers to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate.

Upholding the Courts.

An orderly method is provided under our system of government by which the people may, when they choose, alter or amend the constitutional provisions which underlie that Government. Until these constitutional provisions are so altered or amended, in orderly fashion, it is the duty of the courts to see to it that when challenged they are enforced.

That the courts, both Federal and State, may bear the heavy burden laid upon them to the complete satisfaction of public opinion, we favor legislation to prevent long delays and the tedious and costly appeals which have so often amounted to a denial of justice in civil cases and to a failure to protect the public at large in criminal cases.

RECALL OF JUDGES UNNECESSARY.

Since the responsibility of the judiciary is so great, the standards of judicial action must be always and everywhere above suspicion and reproach. While we regard the recall of Judges as unnecessary and unwise, we favor such action as may be necessary to simplify the process by which any Judge who is found to be derelict in his duty be removed from office.—Republican Platform.

And what the G. O. P. did to the third term proposition was a plenty.

Papa Teddy will put his son-in-law Nick in the mollycoddle class if Nick don't change his ways.

Col. Roosevelt found his third cup of coffee just a little bit too hot or a little too cold, we don't know which.

Of course William Jennings' hat is in the ring at Baltimore. However its not a good year for hats in the ring.

Alice and Nick are nearing the parting of the ways. This combine has lasted now longer than the dear public expects it would.

What sort of show do flies stand in Muncie, where a moving picture show will admit any person for 20 dead ones?—Indianapolis News.

In other words, the objective point of Mr. Bryan and the objective point of Mr. Roosevelt, whether they know it, or believe it, or not, is Socialism pure and simple.—Courier-Journal.

If Colonel Roosevelt does not get some sort of nomination, somehow, somewhere, at Chicago, he will be about the cheapest spectacle American politics has ever produced.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Prohibitionists will have to nominate a candidate. Why should not the Colonel apply to them for the job, since neither the Republicans nor the Democrats will give it to him.—New York World.

It is said that Alice Roosevelt Longworth and her husband, Congressman Nicholas Longworth are at outs over the outcome of the Chicago convention. Nick is for Taft, but can't come out in the open, while his wife is raising Cain because her father got the can.

Echoes From Chicago.

"Then came in the 10,000. Xenophen's army could not have been more insistent for food. Senators, representatives of great manufacturing houses, millionaires and the rank and file crowded the lunch counter. An attempt to deliver the sandwiches from the kitchen to the counter was given up. The mob fought them on the run. Then they crowded around the chef's table in the kitchen. Each sandwich sold for 10 cents. A pie sold 60 cents.

"A tall lean man who, four years ago was Vice President of the United States, bent over the chef's table and asked for a sandwich.

"Get your hands off that ham you mutt" yelled the chef. Then the bread gave out. The mob called for crusts. When the crusts gave out they clamored for ham. "Is there a sandwich left?" asked Chauncey M. Depew?"

"You're too late, old top," said a waiter; "better tackle the pie," whereupon the former Senator purchased a strawberry pie for 60 cents, and ate it off the platter with keen relish."

California is a state which denounces every paragraph in the protective tariff except those protecting lemons and oranges. California gauges her policies from top to bottom on the same basis.—Lafe Young.

The Johnsons, the Heney's and the men who have not been in the Republican party long may go out. But beyond that the bolt will not go. The young fellows in the several states either having a future or hoping for one will stay by the grand old party.—Lafe Young.

HELPING.

Everybody's Magazine.

Two men who really did not want to fight, but had got the idea that it would be disgraceful not to do so, fell to blows. Friends rushed in and held each contestant firmly.

Warrior Number One, seeing the extremely violent efforts of Warrior Number Two to break away, cried out: "More of you men hold Swanson! One man can hold me!"

Life Too Short To "Get Even"

The late Paul Morton, president of one of the big insurance companies, when asked if he did not like to "get even" with persons who had wronged him, replied: "I haven't time to get even. I am too busy."

Which is philosophical. As we say on the street, the best thing to do in such a matter is to "forget it." Life is too short to pursue people for the sake of revenge.

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE

Former Governor Pardee of California Predicts It Will Spread to all the States

At Chicago former Governor George C. Pardee of California, Monday made the prediction that woman suffrage soon would become universal in the United States, speaking at a luncheon given at the Hamilton Club in honor of Mrs. Florence Collins Porter and Mrs. Isabella W. Kinney, woman delegates from California to the recent Republican National Convention.

"I can say in behalf of California, that since we have had equal suffrage there has been absolutely no cause in the state to regret the step that has been taken," said Mr. Pardee. "We have seen that women without exception stood for the betterment of conditions in the state and in the nation. Woman suffrage is 'in the ring' and whether we like it or not we have to accept it. In a short time woman suffrage will win out in every state in this country."

Miss Jane Addams, Miss Gertrude Atherton and Miss Helen Todd of San Francisco, occupied seats at the table with the guests of honor.

CONSUMPTION

Cause and Treatment of Tuberculosis—Every Person Should Be Examined for Signs of This Dread Disease

Every three minutes some one in the United States dies from consumption.

Consumption is caused by a living germ in the lungs. The body of a healthy person will resist its growth and may kill the germs, but in a weak body and without proper care the germs multiply until the lungs are consumed and the person dies.

These germs are found in the sputum (spit) of a consumptive; in small numbers in the very early stages of the disease; in larger numbers as the disease progresses, and in countless millions in the last stages.

Among the earlier symptoms which one can observe and should lead him at once to consult a physician are:

Slight cough lasting a month or longer, loss of weight, slight fever in the afternoon, night sweats, bleeding from the lungs.

The habit of careless spitting promotes the disease.

The consumptive person spit out a million of germs in a single day and when the spit dries these germs are blown about and find their way into other people's lungs. Sick persons should burn their spit.

Fresh air is as necessary to health as pure and nourishing food.

People should not sleep in over-crowded rooms, nor with closed windows.

Homes and work-shops must be clean and thoroughly ventilated. Dirt and impure air are the allies of consumption.

Persons with colds or coughs of long standing or persons who are losing in weight or physical strength, should consult a physician or go to a dispensary or clinic. Do not wait until it is too late.

Breathe with deep, long, full breaths, so as to carry the fresh air to every corner of your lungs. Do this every day for several minutes in the morning and at night with the windows open or while out of doors.

Breathe through the nostrils, and not through the mouth.

Suffragettes At Baltimore

WASHINGTON, June 25th.—As an example of simplicity, Miss Elsie Hill, daughter of Representative E. H. Hill, of Connecticut, and President of the College Equal Suffrage League and the other Washington society women who will march in the Baltimore suffrage parade during the Democratic convention, will wear one dollar white gowns; and Miss Hill is planning to lead the division bare-headed.

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts In Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good.

One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui. Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need.

We urge you to try it.

Alciades, the Greek Who Threw Away His Luck

ALCIADES—the handsome, richest and cleverest of Athenian youths—paid a fortune for an imported dog. Then he proceeded to spoil the animal's looks by cutting off its tail.

ALCIADES' friend asked him why he had done so foolish a thing, and said that the people of Athens were reviling him for it.

"I know they are," answered Alciades. "That is why I did it. It keeps them from saying worse things about me for a while."

The anecdote is typical of Alciades' life story. He was born 450 B. C., of ancient and noble family, had good looks, wealth and genius. He might have risen to almost any height. But there was about him a "queer streak," a demon of perversity that was ever leading him to throw away his golden chances and to commit needless crimes and follies.

Greece in those days was in its glory. It was split up into several dependent and semi-independent states, of which Athens and Sparta were the chief.

Athens was noted for its art, education and culture; Sparta for its courage and stern discipline. The two were deadly rivals.

Persia, the great nation to the eastward, was ever seeking to destroy both. Athens and Sparta were democracies in the strongest sense of the word, the voice of the people always ruling the state. (This did not prevent shrewd politicians ruling the people any more than it does nowadays.)

Alciades started life as a pupil of the wise old philosopher Socrates. The two were dear friends, each having saved the other's life in battle. Yet Socrates could not turn his pupil from vice and gayety, nor induce him to follow wisdom rather than pleasure.

So the young millionaire's extravagance soon became the scandal of Greece. He paraded the streets in rich perfumed robes of purple, laden down with jewels; carried a shield of ivory and gold when he went to war, and set the fashion in dress and disposition to all the idle youth of the city.

Yet Alciades was a gallant and crafty soldier, a brilliant statesman and (in spite of the fact that he stompered and that he could not pronounce the letter "R") a fiery orator. His brains and his liberality raised him high in the people's favor. Then it was that his perversity made him unlucky. For example, he wanted an alliance between Sparta and Athens. Yet when Nicias, his rival, secured that alliance instead of himself, Alciades persuaded the Athenians to break with Sparta.

He planned to make Athens ruler of all Greece. As an early step in this plan he planned an expedition against Sicily, and had himself chosen commander of it. It was the chance of a lifetime. But he spoiled that chance. On the eve of the campaign Alciades went on an all-night spree with some wild companions. Next morning all the sacred busts of Hermes (guardian god of the state's democracy), erected here and there through the city, were found hideously mutilated. As Alciades had already won a name for sacrilege, the blame was (rightly or not) laid to him. He was allowed to start on the expedition, but was almost instantly recalled to stand trial for the outrage.

Instead of coming back to Athens to clear himself, he ran away, declaring he wouldn't trust his own mother in a matter of such importance as a life-and-death trial. In his absence he was convicted and condemned to die. This did not greatly trouble him, for he fled to Sparta. There he betrayed all of Athens' secret plans and tried to stir the Spartans to war against the Athenians. He also curried favor by pretending to lead the simple, severe life of Sparta. But the chiefs of the Spartans plotted to kill him, so he fled.

He was now hand and glove with the enemies of Greece, and became famous in Persia's service. But after a time Tissaphernes took offense at his behavior and tried to murder him. Alciades escaped. Through sheer cleverness he persuaded the Athenians to pardon him and to take him back into favor. Again he found himself leader of the armies of Athens. And again through mischance or perversity he threw away his luck. He was deprived of command, and after various adventures started, in 404, for Persia to try his fortune at the court of that country. On the way he stopped at one of his country estates, in the night the house was set afire by his enemies. As he rushed out, sword in hand, he was pierced by a dozen arrows and fell dead in the courtyard of the blazing building.

A Friend's Criticism.
"Doesn't Biffur ever take part in any amateur performances?"
"Yes. His game of poker is the most amateurish performance I have ever witnessed."

OPENS TODAY! The Great Chautauqua Movement.

A CHAUTAUQUA AUDIENCE

EXTERIOR VIEW OF A CHAUTAUQUA

It Has Become One of America's Leading Institutions.

FOUNDED IN 1875.

INCIDENTAL to the coming of our forthcoming Chautauqua in this city, it will be of interest to all local residents to know that there are today nearly 600 Chautauquas in the United States and Canada. In fact, the Chautauqua has become one of America's great institutions, and the idea has already spread to England and Japan. In 1872 there was not a Chautauqua in the world. In 1873 Bishop John H. Vincent and Lewis Miller inaugurated at the spot now called Chautauqua, New York, the original institution. The original gathering was solely a religious one. The meetings were denominational. From this small beginning feature after feature was added until today Chautauqua, N. Y., is the summer center for 10,000 people, and its land, buildings and equipment represent a cost of millions.

But although thousands of people go annually to Chautauqua, N. Y., from all parts of the United States, the great mass of American people would never get to a Chautauqua if they had to travel far from home. The recognition of this fact brought about the decision to take Chautauqua to the people everywhere. The movement a few years ago began to spread rapidly. Today there are operated from the Redpath-Vawter headquarters in Iowa, seventy-five Chautauquas, while 135 more are managed from Redpath headquarters in Kansas City, and many others from Chicago. Only the best talent is engaged, as high as $15,000 having been paid by the Redpath single attraction for the Chautauqua season. Every year the number of Chautauquas grows, and there are nests annually from towns wishing to be Chautauqua centers than can possibly be granted.

IF THERE IS

any more enjoyable season of the year than the approach of the summer vacation period, we do not know it. Even the vacation itself does not surpass the anticipation. They were coming to town in a buggy and a mile back of Abertown their horse frightened at a passing motorcycle and ran off. The occupants were thrown out and the buggy wrecked. Mrs. Marlin sustained injuries to the body and the boy's head was badly cut and otherwise hurt. The boy is now in Wilson Hospital.

JOHN HAYES
One of Maysville's Leading Merchants Passes Away

Mr. John Hayes, whose serious illness was noted in yesterday's LEADER died this morning at 7:30 o'clock at Wilson Hospital, where he had been removed last evening. The deceased has been in ill health for several years, but his fatal sickness, typhoid pneumonia, has been of only a few days' duration.

He was born in Mason county, March 9th, 1836. For the past twenty-five years he has been one of Maysville's leading grocers and highly esteemed citizens.

He is survived by his widow and three children—Mrs. James Walton, Walter and Elmer Hayes of this city, besides one sister and two brothers, Mrs. Kate Kane of Paris, and Messrs. Thomas and Roger Hayes of Lexington.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE

General Powell Clayton Temporary Chairman of New Republican Body

CHICAGO, June 24th.—The old wheel horse of the Republican party, General Powell Clayton of Arkansas was made temporary chairman of the national committee.

General Clayton, Republican national committee member from Arkansas, the oldest member of the committee and whose membership with an interval of four years extends from 1872 was made temporary chairman of the new Republican national committee when that body convened in executive session today in the Coliseum. Alvin H. Martin of Virginia was named temporary secretary.

The meeting was brief and adjourned after the appointment of a committee of nine to confer with President Taft and ascertain his wishes regarding the naming of a chairman and the conduct of the campaign.

The committee of nine decided to meet Monday morning in the New Willard Hotel in Washington and proceed to the White House to confer with President Taft.

Before the national committee adjourned Bessie-at-arms William F. Stone was unanimously re-elected.

DEMMIES FIGHT

Baltimore Convention Surpasses Chicago Doings and Turmoil Reigns

Bryan Gets the Can and is Defeated For Chairman

VOTE ON CHAIRMAN.
Alton B. Parker 579
William Jennings Bryan 506
Judge O'Gorman 4

BALTIMORE, June 25th.—William J. Bryan suffered defeat and humiliation today in a convention that he had come to control. The issue which he had raised in connection with the selection of a Temporary Chairman led to his undoing after dramatic and turbulent scenes, which brought delegates to their feet quivering with excitement.

Bryan's personal plea was unavailing; his attacks on Alton B. Parker were derisively received; his protestations at times—worse than all else—brought forth smiles and laughter. His leadership was repudiated, his advice overwhelmingly rejected.

In the most important battle in the history of his political career the Nebraskaan lost. He staked his name and reputation against that of Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, the latter backed by the prestige of the great conservative leaders of New York, Illinois, Indiana and Georgia, and lost.

Parker was elected Temporary Chairman of the Democratic National Convention. The vote was 579 for Parker, 506 for Bryan; O'Gorman, 4; Kern, 1; 2 absent.

Bryan was steam-rolled as much as Col. Roosevelt was at Chicago and by relatively the same forces of conservatism. But he went down with flying colors, fighting to the last, and both he and his opponents realized that today's fight was far from conclusive.

Bryan stated before entering the convention hall that if defeated in the fight for the Chairmanship he would come right back with a platform fight. Bryan will be Nebraska's member of the Resolutions Committee and he will renew his fight there for a platform that is really progressive.

One result of today's fight was the open break between the Clark forces and Bryan. It was pledged Clark votes that held the balance of power against the "fearless leader," Bryan, in his speech, made it plain that he considered the Parker victory a reactionary one, and due to the Clark forces entering into a combination with the conservatives in the hope of getting votes from New York.

The fight was marked by peculiar strategic maneuvering by the progressives. Bryan nominated for his choice for Temporary Chairman his running mate of four years ago—John W. Kern of Indiana.

Kern made a dramatic public appeal to Bryan from the platform to withdraw in the interests of harmony, but Parker sat back in his chair and refused to respond to the appeal.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our darling wife and mother, Maggie A. Daulton, who died January 29th, 1912.

The golden gates were open wide,
A gentle voice said come;
Angels on the other side
Welcome our mother home.

Our darling is gone, but not forgotten,
Never will her memory fade;
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Around the place where she is laid.

A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.

Yes, we feel that you are happy
With the loved ones gone before,
And we long, we hope to meet you
On the bright celestial shore.
